About the Artists:

Yuri and Katrin Shumakov are internationally recognized professional origami artists. First introduced to origami in France in 1989, they developed this art in a heretofore unseen way. Now residents of Toronto, Canada and authors of many books and CDs, they share their art with the world.

They created the fantastic Oriland world, which consists of amazing creations: goblins and wizards, castles of magical wonder, dragons, princesses, trees and flowers, sailing ships and sea creatures, dinosaur skeletons and so much more including elegant floral arrangements they call Oribana.

Their origami designs have been exhibited in different countries across the globe. And now, you can view this mind blowing work.

Yuri and Katrin Shumakov have done Internet project - the multiple award winning Oriland.com, acknowledged as a high quality creative, educational and fun website for children and adults.

Psychologists by education, their Ph.D scientific work showed how origami helps the development of children: creates conditions of intensive interaction of the brain's hemispheres and effectively allows development of motor skills of both hands, intellectual and creative abilities. They suggest that Origami is entertainment for the Soul, gymnastics for the Mind and training for the Hands.
